Classic

Current 'traditional' model

Provides long-term intentional discipleship using the BB award scheme to promote Christian growth and balanced personal development.

Available to all school-aged males.

Run by the local church.

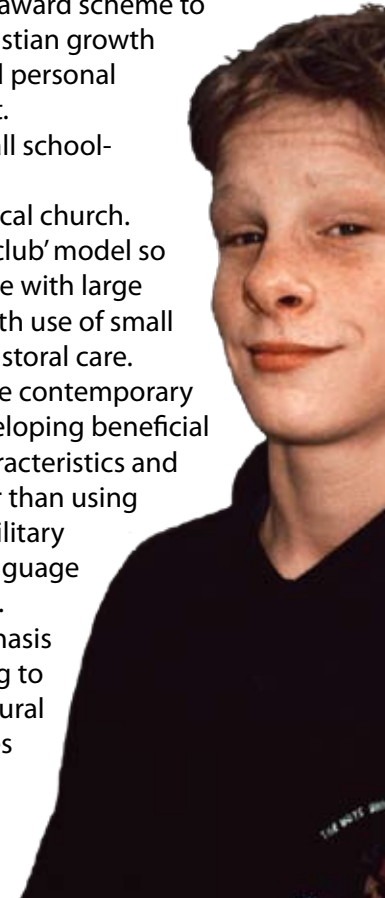

Offered as a 'club' model so is able to cope with large numbers - with use of small groups for pastoral care.

Uses military ceremonial elements like uniform, drill and hierarchy to assist in developing beneficial personal characteristics and habits.

Serving traditional market segments: single parent families, boys attracted by military or ceremony, boys wanting more structure and discipline in their lives.

Contemporary

Current 'casual' model

Provides long-term intentional discipleship using the BB award scheme to promote Christian growth and balanced personal development.

Available to all school-aged males.

Run by the local church.

Offered as a 'club' model so is able to cope with large numbers - with use of small groups for pastoral care.

Explores more contemporary forms of developing beneficial personal characteristics and habits (rather than using traditional military models in language and practice).

Greater emphasis on adaptating to changed cultural circumstances and reducing current barriers to entry.

empowering your whole life

Alternative

Under construction

Pending consultation with all members as well as those outside of BB.

A complete re-boot of Brigade for the 21st Century - expected in 2008.

Complementary

Experimental Brigade

Provides long-term intentional discipleship using the BB award scheme to promote Christian growth and balanced personal development.

Available to only certain age ranges.

Can run within state or independent schools through cooperation with local churches.

Offered on a small group or one-to-one mentoring basis.

Focused on serving new clients - young people or churches not attracted to existing models.
